

Scenari di Innovazione 10 – International design competition

- by admin - Nov 29, 2013

Artex, the Centre for Artistic and Traditional Handicrafts of Tuscany, in collaboration with business associations CNA Toscana, Confartigianato Imprese Toscana and ADI Industrial Design association announces the 2014 ideas competition Scenari di Innovazione for the design of objects and furnishings.

This international competition is open to college and university students specialising in art and design. In addition to students, the competition this year will also be welcoming entries for the first time from young designers under 35 years.

The aim of the competition, promoted by the Region of Tuscany, is to disseminate and strengthen innovation in artistic and traditional Tuscan production, by creating direct links between education, young designers, Italian Tuscan small and medium enterprises (SMEs) and their markets. The deadline for applications is 21 March 2014.
